DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 4- 16, 18-54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 5,397,927 (Montenieri et al).

3. Montenieri in figures 1-22 disclose:

Claim 1: A dispensing nozzle (24) comprising:

(i) an elongate nozzle body (20) having a base portion (35) and a dispensing end (25);

(ii) an internal conduit (30, see figure 9) in the nozzle body (20) for delivering product (cyanoacrylates, col. 1, lines 1-15) from the base portion (35) to the dispensing end (25);

(iii) engaging formations (26, 28) on the nozzle (20) for inter-engaging with co-operating engaging formations on a cap (15), to hold said cap in a position over-fitting the nozzle (see figure 11, 55-56, 58-61); and first and second external ramps are provided (50, see figures 5-8) longitudinally spaced apart (see figure 8) on the nozzle body (20) and against which a co-operating portion on the cap (55-56) may act by relative rotation of the cap (see figures 15-16) and the nozzle (20) in at least one direction, to provide sufficient relative separation force between the cap (15) and the nozzle body (20), to separate the engaging formations on the cap (15) and the nozzle (20) from an inter-engaged position, wherein the first and second external ramps (50) each comprise a ramping surface oblique (the ramp surface plane is at a different angle than the movement of the cap body during twisting) the direction of rotation of the cap (15).

In addition, the span of the rotation between the cap and the nozzle are about 30 degrees maximum (see figure 5), the ramps located on an external shoulder 34, the nozzle 20 engages the cap 15 by means of the horizontal lip 28 on the nozzle 20 snap fitting over the slot 59 on the cap 15, such that the cap 15 can only rise or fall so far, which it does as it is raised and lowered as it traverses the ramp 50.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
6. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Monteneri in view of US 3,982,651 (Braun et al).
7. Monteneri as applied in claim 1 has all of the elements of claim 17 except for the ramp being clearly visible to a user in both the engaged and disengaged positions. Braun teaches a cap 26 with a contoured ramp 32, 34 that engages with a matching contoured ramp 22, 24 of the container such that it is clearly visible to an observer whether the container is open or closed. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt Braun to Monteneri's ramp and cap arrangement to make the ramps visible when the cap is closed or opened because Braun teaches a way that would allow an observer to tell from far away across a room whether the container was accidentally left open, which could save a container from drying out from the error of a well intentioned but not careless student.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 12/16/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The amendments were small changes relating to the ramps of the device, and the Monteneri device clearly still has all of the elements with the exception of the ones that are evoked by Braun.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
